Service Quality Information Request
Project 29165 – 2003 Electric System Service Quality Report
April 16, 2004
Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO)

1. Provide complete records of all sustained interruptions, by interruption class, for the months of April and October 2003. [Subst. R. §25.52(d)]

The records of all sustained interruptions are provided in an electronic file titled SWEPCo2003AprOctOutageClass.xls and in hardcopy form as Attachment 1.

2. Provide the number of significant interruptions sustained during 2003 and the number lasting more than 24 hours. [Subst. R. §25.52(c)(5) and §25.52(e)(2)]

There were no significant interruptions sustained during 2003.

3. Provide the number of forced interruptions attributable to each cause shown on the 2003 Service Quality Report.

The number of forced interruptions by cause is shown in the following table.

Causes of Forced Interruptions	Outage Count
Animals and Birds	1,472
Other	62
People (Including cars and farm equip)	166
Unknown	127
Utility-owned Equipment	863
Vegetation	2,422
Weather (Including Lightning)	2,127

4. Describe the methodology used to calculate the annual average SAIFI value for each interruption class shown on the 2003 Service Quality Report. Include a description of the data used for the calculations.

The interruption classes for all sustained outages are determined by cause, clearing device, and major event codes. Interruptions assigned to the “Major Event” interruption class are those with a “Y” in the “Major Event” field of the outage record. Interruptions assigned to the “Scheduled” interruption class are those with a cause code of 23, which is SWEPCO’s code for a scheduled interruption. Interruptions assigned to the “Outside” interruption class are those with a cause in the following list or with a clearing device code of 87 (Other Utility) or 93 (Transmission). The “Outside” cause codes are 03 – blast/explosion, 05 – customer equipment, 08 – fire/police, 11 – generation, 16 – load shed, 17 – partial power, 21 – other utility, 25 – transmission (cause located between the generators and the high-side disconnecting device in the substation), 29 – underground construction/dig-ins, and 33 – vandalism. The “Forced” interruption group is then all of the remaining interruptions that are not attributed to the major, scheduled, or outside interruption classes. The sum of customers interrupted by each interruption class is then divided by the total customers served to determine the reported SAIFI.

- 5. Describe the methodology used to calculate the annual average SAIDI value for each interruption class shown on the 2003 Service Quality Report. Include a description of the data used for the calculations.

This answer is very similar to that for Question 4. The only difference is that the SAIDI calculations use the total customer-minutes of interruption for each interruption class rather than the number of customers interrupted. SAIDI is then calculated by dividing the customer-minutes of interruption by the total customers served.

- 6. Describe the methodology used to calculate the system-wide SAIFI standard for 2003, and include a description of the data used for the calculation. Provide the standard for 2003 and provide the calculation showing how this standard was determined. [Subst. R. §25.52(f)(1)]

The SAIFI standard for 2003 was calculated as specified in §25.52(f)(1)(A) of the substantive rules. The standard is 105% of the average reported forced SAIFI for the three reporting years 1998, 1999, and 2000. The forced interruption class (as outlined above in the response to Question 4) has been used to determine, and compare to, the standard. The SAIFI values for the years 1998 – 2000 were 1.299, 1.629, and 1.33 interruptions per customer served, respectively. The system-wide SAIFI standard is then calculated to be 1.490 interruptions.

- 7. Describe the methodology used to calculate the system-wide SAIDI standard for 2003, and include a description of the data used for the calculation. Provide the standard for 2003 and provide the calculation showing how this standard was determined. [Subst. R. §25.52(f)(1)]

The SAIDI standard for 2003 was calculated as specified in §25.52(f)(1)(B) of the substantive rules. The standard is 105% of the average reported forced SAIDI for the three reporting years 1998, 1999, and 2000. The forced interruption class (as outlined above in the response to Question 5) has been used to determine, and compare to, the standard. The SAIDI values for the years 1998 – 2000 were 90.601, 117.878, and 94.00 minutes of interruption per customer served, respectively. The system-wide SAIDI standard is then calculated to be 105.87 minutes.

- 8. Identify and list the feeders on the 2003 Service Quality Report that did not meet either the SAIDI or SAIFI requirements of Subst. R. §25.52(f)(2)(A). Explain why each feeder did not meet the requirements and what action(s) have been or will be taken to achieve compliance for the feeder (i.e., to prevent the feeder repeating for a third year).

The following feeders on the 2003 Service Quality Report repeated from the 2002 report. The explanation and the work plan for each feeder are supplied.

Friars Switch 1900: Lightning arresters are being added to this circuit to help mitigate outages due to lightning. The right-of-way is scheduled to be trimmed beginning the first of June 2004.

Leveretts Chapel 5200: There is an approved project to install 5.2 miles of 12.5 kV, 477 kcmil ACSR primary conductor between Kilgore Substation Circuit 3090 and Leverett's Chapel Circuit 5200. This will remove a substantial portion of main circuit exposure on both 5200 and 3090 from wooded right of way to a more accessible location along a roadway. Secondly, it will provide for a back-up circuit to 5200 that will carry the transferred load without voltage limitations. A pre-bid meeting was held May 20, 2004 between the engineer and contractors for this project. The right-of-way is also being trimmed and is currently 99 % completed.

North Laneville 10660: Lightning arresters are being added to the circuit to help mitigate outages due to lightning. Candidates for replacement have been identified through the pole inspection program and those poles will be replaced. Additional poles are being added in some of the longer spans to help eliminate damage due to trees and wind. The right-of-way is scheduled to be trimmed beginning the first of June 2004.

Turnertown 1B10: Lightning arresters are being added to this circuit to help mitigate outages due to lightning. Review and better enforcement of customer 12.5 kV hot tap over-current protection coordination is planned. Mis-coordination of protection by customer on their 12.5 kV "hot tap" distribution facilities has caused outages on AEP's facilities. The right-of-way is scheduled to be trimmed beginning the first of June 2004.

- 9. Identify and list the feeders on the 2003 Service Quality Report that did not meet either the SAIDI or SAIFI requirements of Subst. R. §25.52(f)(2)(B). Explain why each feeder did not meet the requirements and what action(s) have been or will be taken to achieve compliance for the feeder. Describe the methodology used to calculate the SAIDI and SAIFI system averages of all feeders for purposes of identifying the listed feeders, and provide the calculations.

Only one feeder did not meet the requirements of Subst.R. §25.52(f)(2)(B) and it also did not meet the requirements of Subst. R. §25.52(f)(2)(A). The reasons and work plans for the feeders are supplied in response to Question 8. The feeder that did not meet Subst. R. §25.52(f)(2)(B) was Leveretts Chapel 5200.

The method used to determine compliance of the feeders is to calculate the feeder level SAIFI and SAIDI values based on the forced interruption class described in response to Question 4. The feeder SAIFI and SAIDI are calculated by dividing the sum of the customers interrupted (for SAIFI) and customer-minutes (for SAIDI) by the total customers served by the feeder. Those feeders that serve 10 or more customers and had a forced interruption class SAIFI and/or SAIDI that was 300% greater than the system forced interruption class SAIFI and/or SAIDI in each year 2002 and 2003 would have been identified as not meeting the requirements. The method used to calculate the system forced interruption class SAIFI and SAIDI is described in the responses to Questions 4 and 5.

The calculation details are:

	2002	2003
System forced interruption class SAIFI	1.257 interruptions	1.099 interruptions
System forced interruption class SAIDI	87.4 minutes	90.2 minutes

Those feeders that had a SAIFI greater than 5.028 in 2002 and greater than 4.396 in 2003 exceeded the SAIFI criteria set in Subst.R. §25.52(f)(2)(B). Those feeders that had a SAIDI greater than 349.6 in 2002 and greater than 360.8 in 2003 exceeded the SAIDI criteria.
