my property. This will have a huge impact on my farm and my plans.

The transmission line will go SW accross me and will turn NW accross Richard Muirs property west of me.

My farm has power lines on three sides of our property lines. We also have an additional power line with large -H- poles going accross the front fifty feet inside our property.

a housing development joins me along my east side which I hope to develop my land in the future.

If the transmission line comes accross my farm it will drastically reduce the value of my farm and my plans.

Please give this serious consideration

Thanks
