He let the system run itself into the ground. leaks everywhere I had to put my on cover over meter when little gets done. Perhaps to me like he has milled. the ~~whole~~ system dry and now he wants me to advise it for him. Back in water all the time.

System has been left in non-repairs & now he wants to double the water. He should at least use a qualified plumber but he said that would cost too much. I have a look in his line right behind my house but I don't want his farm help working on it. I don't need a house, system full of mud. This is the same ~~open~~ opinion everyone on the system has of the management of the system. Please don't let him get by with this.

PS Look at the way he has handled the paper work with you. He has flooded the system dry now he wants to double the water to do it again.
