² On September 14, 2020, CPS Energy withdrew its objection to Mr. Rockwood's standing to participate.

 On September 14, 2020, CPS Energy indicated it does not object to these landowners who own property within the study area in proximity to a potential segment of a proposed transmission line route, but not within the distance required for notice under the Commission's rules.

Each person or entity presented a justiciable interest in the outcome of this proceeding. No party objected to the above-referenced motions. Accordingly, the administrative law judge (ALJ) grants the motions.

For service of pleadings, the service list in this proceeding is available from the Public Utility Commission of Texas by calling (512) 936-7200 and requesting a copy of the service list

* These intervenors used the Commission's form for submitting comments in a proceeding, but also included letters labeled as "Request to Intervene." On September 14, 2020, CPS Energy stated it considered these filings as requests to intervene and did not object to their intervention. The ALJ concurs that these filings should be considered as requests to intervene.

in Docket No. 51023. Service of pleadings is typically governed by 16 Texas Administrative Code (TAC) § 22.74. However, the Commission has issued a Second Order Suspending Rules,³ which has suspended certain service requirements found in 16 TAC § 22.74. Accordingly, a filing party must provide notice by e-mail of any pleading or document filed. It will be incumbent upon all other parties to obtain a copy of the pleading or document by accessing the Interchange.

All parties must provide their current address, e-mail address, telephone and fax numbers, if available, to all other parties and the Commission by filing and serving all parties with such information. Each party must provide the Commission and all parties with updated address, e-mail address, telephone, and fax information if such information changes. The e-mail addresses, telephone and fax numbers will be placed on the service list for the convenience of the parties. Parties are responsible for updating their own service lists to reflect changed information and the addition of any other parties.

Filing of pleadings is typically governed by 16 TAC § 22.71. However, the Commission has issued a Second Order Suspending Rules,⁴ which has suspended certain filing requirements found in 16 TAC § 22.71. As long as the Second Order Suspending Rules remains in effect, all parties must file any pleading or document with the Commission solely through the Interchange on the Commission's website (<https://interchange.puc.texas.gov/filer>) and provide notice, by e-mail, to all other parties that the pleading or document has been filed with the Commission, unless otherwise ordered by the presiding officer. It will be incumbent upon all other parties to obtain a copy of the pleading or document by accessing the Interchange.
