I am not sure if this is correct place to voice my concern over the constant increase requests that Xcel has, but this is where I landed after searching on my own. The directions from the notification were very confusing. I, along with a lot of other people are tired of getting Xcel's notice of rate change requests. Only a few months ago we received a notice of retroactive rate change that is going to be added to our future bills and now, once again, we have received another notification of rate increase. I do not feel like this company is managing their budget well and leaning on petitioning for rate increases, because they know the majority of people will not take the time to go through this very long and confusing process to speak out against the constant rate increases. I think it is time to deny this rate increase and tell them to go back and figure out a way to make the dollars work. After all that is what most others have to do.
