Rate payer comments:

In areas where one relies on sanitary water systems to provide residential and/or commercial water, you are generally stuck with the local provider. In this case, that's now CSWR-Texas for the area that serves our property.

A lot of the properties in this area are vacation properties. Some residents only use residential water a few months of the year. As proposed, if they use "zero" water, they will see a rate increase of approximately 137%. If they only use 1 gallon but less than 1000 gallons of water, that makes the approximate rate increase 162%. The proposed rate increase per 1000 gallons of water is approximately 145%. While no one wants to pay more, a reasonable rate increase would be understandable and acceptable.

However, a 137% to a 162% rate increase is outrageous and completely unacceptable.

Thank you for your consideration.
